

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Brea, CA – April 27, 2026 – Pac-Dent, Inc., is thrilled to announce the launch of the EzAim[®] Short Arms, designed to enhance radiographic positioning for handheld X-ray workflows. The EzAim[®] Short Arms strengthen Pac-Dent’s expanding x-ray accessories portfolio and reinforce its commitment to delivering practical, clinician-driven innovations.

EzAim[®] Short Arms are purpose-built to optimize radiographic positioning when using handheld X-ray units. The shortened arm geometry allows clinicians to position the unit closer to the patient’s face without interfering with the backscatter shield, improving stability and alignment accuracy. Engineered for seamless integration with the EzAim system, it enhances operator control while maintaining consistent, high-quality imaging in tight or mobile clinical environments. Its durable, fully autoclavable construction ensures reliable performance while maintaining strict infection control standards.

Features and Benefits of EzAim[®] Short Arms

- Handheld Optimized: Shortened arm prevents backscatter shield interference and allows closer facial proximity
- Enhanced Stability: Reduced lever length minimizes operator fatigue and improves angulation control
- Universal Compatibility: Works seamlessly with all standard rings and bite blocks
- Fully Autoclavable: Durable construction designed to withstand repeated sterilization
